Convene Special Meeting/Work Session

Chair Gebhardt called the Special Meeting/Work Session to order at 5:08 p.m. She said the purpose of the meeting was to conduct an orientation for the student representatives to the Board of Trustees.

Orientation for Student Representatives to the Board of Trustees

Dr. Howell conducted introductions and asked the student representatives to introduce themselves. Ms. Gebhardt explained that the student representatives should keep their reports to three minutes, but no more than five. She said students were welcome to attend any open board meeting or work session. She said student representatives should meet with their principal to review their reports prior to the board meeting. She said the reports helped the Board know what was happening in the schools. She said if student representatives had questions they were welcome to contact the Board or District Office. She said the students represented the student body and asked them to solicit input from other students. She said the Board was thankful for their willing to come to board meetings and share their school activities and concerns with the Board. She said if students had other commitments, they were welcome to excuse themselves after student representative reports were finished. Ms. Gebhardt asked the students to share something about themselves. Caitlyn Callaghan said she had been on the student council at Century High School for four years, participated in fencing on a national level and hoped to become a veterinarian. Alonzo Hartman said he had also been on the student council at Century High School for four years, played baseball and would like to become a biochemical engineer. Taylor Snell said she was the senior class senator at Highland High School, had been in student government for two years and hoped to attend law school. Brooke Miller said she was the junior body representative at Pocatello High School, took mostly AP classes and wanted to become a nurse. Nick Gallardo said he was just elected as a student body representative for New Horizon High School and was surprised by it. He said he enjoyed boxing and football and had been doing both for two years. He said he was a senior and was currently enrolled in two high schools. He said he was attending New Horizon High School but took CNA classes at Pocatello High School.
